İKO's Sense Quest

Learning goal

Match picture, sound, texture and suitable food cards with real-life tasks; tell observation, interpretation and evidence apart. A screen cannot give touch, smell or taste.

Materials

The card pages of this PDF (A4, 100% scale), scissors, pencils; box labels go on the table.

How to play

- No time limit; nobody is rushed.
- A wrong answer costs nothing: read why, then try again.
- A team that wants help turns over İKO's hint card.
- At the end, say what you learned in one sentence and choose the real-life task.

Task flow

Ages 7–9

Match İKO's cards with real-life tasks. Remember: we cannot touch, smell or taste on a screen.

1. What is the real-life task for each card?
2. If we touch the leaf on the screen with a finger, do we feel the leaf's texture?

Ages 10–12

Sort the statements into observation, interpretation and evidence.

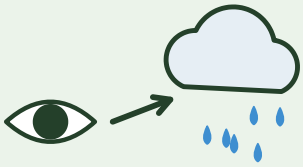

1. Which is each statement?
2. A classmate cannot hear the audio recording. How can they do the same task?

Real-life task: Make an observation in the garden or at home: draw what you see, write what you hear. If you want to touch, smell or taste, do it only with adults' permission and safe materials; if not, drawing and writing are enough.

If a badge is used, it only shows the task was finished; it is not proof of learning. Neither screen nor paper gives touch, smell or taste; these are done with real materials, with permission and only if wanted.

1	Apple slice card	Smell/taste if you want (an adult checks)	After adults have checked it is suitable, smell or taste if you want; if not, do the same task with the card.

Ages 10–12

1	"Sample 2 has two small spots on its skin."	Observation	Seen directly with the eyes.
1	"A spotted apple is spoiled."	Interpretation	This is an interpretation; spots do not always mean spoiled. A check is needed.
1	"I heard a crunch when I bit the slice."	Observation	Information taken directly with the ears.
1	"In our team's table, 4 out of 4 people marked the two samples 'same firmness'."	Evidence	Recorded information that can be checked again.
1	"It smells nice, so it is safe."	Interpretation	An interpretation, and a wrong one: smell is not a safety test (K15).
1	"According to the teacher's checklist, both samples were washed with drinking water."	Evidence	Recorded and checkable.
2A	They read the written equivalent or use a visual cue; their score does not drop.	Fits	An equivalent route reaches the same goal.
2B	They skip the task and get no points.	Does not fit	Nobody is left out because of sensory access.

İKO's Sense Quest: A screen gives only images and sound. Touching, smelling and tasting are done with real materials, with permission and only if you want. Observation comes through the senses; interpretation draws meaning; evidence rests on records.
